TWO INJURED IN COLLISION FRIDAY NIGHT

Borough police were called to investigate two accidents within a half hour Friday evening.

At 6:15 o'clock cars operated by Robert H. Cranford, 18, York, and Curvin G. Bortner, 63, Thomasville R. 1, collided at the intersection of York and Hanover Sts.

Carolyn Smyser, 17, York, a passenger in Cranford's car was removed to the Warner Hospital by police suffering from an injured neck.

Police said Cranford was headed east and, in the rain, did not immediately notice the curve on York St. When he did, he tried to make the turn, lost control, and the left rear of his car struck the front fender of the west-bound Bortner auto.

Damage was estimated at $250 to each car. Police are continuing their investigation.

At 6:45 o'clock the officers were called to an accident in the second block of Chambersburg St. Ruth Vortier, Queens, N. Y., occupant of one of the vehicles was removed in the ambulance to the Warner Hospital for treatment of body bruises.

COLLISION IN RAIN

Borough police said Anne Moskowitz, 41, Queens, N. Y., driver of the car in which Mrs. Vortier was a passenger, stopped for traffic. Paul G. Peterson, 42, Gettysburg R. 3, whose auto preceded the Moskowitz car also stopped.

Paul L. Beach, 27, roaring Spring, driving a tractor trailer owned by New Enterprise Equipment and Supply Co., New Enterprise, Pa., was also traveling east. The officers said Beach told them he glanced in his rear view mirror to determine whether his trailer was clearing a car which had stopped and when he glanced back to the highway found the cars ahead of him had stopped. He applied his brakes but his vehicle skidded on the wet highway and struck the rear of the Moskowitz sedan driving into the rear of the Peterson vehicle.

Damage was estimated at $10 to the tractor trailer, $275 to the Moskowitz car, and $35 to the Peterson vehicle. Investigation is being continued.

Rebels Halt Armed March In Argentina

By SAM SUMMERLIN

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—Rebel army troops vowing to oust President Jose Maria Guido halted their armed march on the capital early today while top Argentine leaders conferred on ways to avoid bloodshed. The rebels reportedly were demanding establishment of a military dictatorship.

Loyalist army troops, backed by tanks and other armored vehicles, were poised on the other side of Buenos Aires. Sailors and marines blockaded approaches to the city under orders to head off an army clash.

NAVY SEES PEACE

The navy intervention, ostensibly in a peace-making role, appeared to favor the rebels. Pro-insurgent troops aided the marines and sailors in obstructing the advance of loyalist troops from the south.

Scattered shooting broke out in the city, but no major fighting was reported.

Guido met with rebel leader Maj. Gen. Federico Toranzo Montero at the president's suburban residence in an effort to find a solution to the three-day-old crisis, Argentina's third major upheaval in four months.

Guido had already given in to the rebel demand when he fired controversial War Secretary Lt. Gen. Eduardo Senorans early today after Senorans had been in office only 12 hours. Senorans was the second war secretary to quit in two days at the demand of Toranzo Montero.

Part Of Nation Is Sweltering

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A sweltering heat wave continued under cloudless skies today in the arid Southwest and Southern Plains area stretching from Texas to the Arizona-California border.

Parts of California also were baked by the oppressive heat. El Centro, in the Imperial Valley, registered 114 Friday, its 55th day in a row with a 100-plus reading.

Unseasonably cool weather covered wide areas of the North, dropping readings into the 50's and 60's and triggering thunderstorms and heavy rains.

United States Expected To Approve Peru's Junta

By BEN F. MEYER

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States is ready to give its diplomatic stamp of approval to the military junta now ruling Peru, informed sources said today.

American recognition will be forthcoming soon, probably next week, they said.

After the group of Peruvian officers overthrew the elected government July 18, the United States swiftly suspended diplomatic relations and cut off economic and military aid.

The decision to recognize the junta as the government of Peru apparently was based on the junta's promises to return to democratic processes as soon as possible and to maintain civil liberties.

TEACHERS ARE WARNED ABOUT UNIONIZATION

More than 400 teachers from throughout Pennsylvania, including four from Adams County, returned home Friday afternoon from the 17th annual "President's Workshop" held at Penn Hall in Chambersburg this week.

The Adams County PSEA officials who attended the program which started last Sunday night included John R. Korver, Hampton, president of the Adams County branch of the Pennsylvania State Education Association; John Maloney, 61 E. Middle St., president of the Gettysburg branch; Mrs. Emilie J. Eshleman, president of the Berks branch; Mrs. Satterfield, president of the Lower Adams PSEA.

Workshops were held throughout the week with Wednesday devoted to field trips. About half the assembly went to Washington to tour the National Education Association headquarters and the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare. The other group visited the battlefield during the morning, dined at the Hotel Gettysburg, then went to Harrisburg to visit the state Department of Public Instruction.

WARNS AGAINST UNIONS

At the banquet held at Chambersburg Thursday evening as part of the conference, the group heard Dr. M. T. Stinnett, assistant secretary for professional development and growth of the National Education Association, warn public school teachers "not to succumb to the temptation to align themselves with craft units in an effort to advance their economic goals."

He warned the teachers would lose their "professional status through unionization." Stating that "the greatest danger to education is that teachers may become an adjunct of big labor, big business or any other selfish group," Dr. Stinnett told his audience that the National Education Association itself has taken a militant stand against school districts which fail to adequately provide for the educational needs of their children or for the economic needs of their teachers.

Firemen Called To Two Fires Friday

Gettysburg firemen were called twice within an hour Friday night.

The first alarm, about 9:50, was to a house trailer owned by Ellis Smith, off S. Franklin St., where an oil burner had "flared up."

The firemen's services were not needed. At 11 o'clock the firemen were called to the home of Logan Brent off the Mummaburg Rd. about three miles north of here. There two mattresses on an unused bed in the attic had caught fire. The flames had burned away the foot of the bed and were charring rafters when firemen arrived. The mattresses were thrown out a window and the fire in them later extinguished outside the building. Firemen quickly extinguished the blazing bed and fire in the rafters. Firemen said that in 10 minutes the entire attic would have been on fire.

Migrant Workers' Children Learning 3R's At 1st Summer School In County

These are vacation days for 10,000 youngsters in Adams County but for half a hundred at Bendersville Elementary School, classes are in session five days a week.

The 45 to 50 boys and girls who gather daily for their lessons are children of migrant workers and their school is a rare one. There's only one other like it in the state and that is in Potter County.

Another 25 to 30 migrant children, under school age, are taken care of daily in the day care center in the same school building. That project, which has been conducted here for several summers, is handled by Penn State University.

The summer school, established here for the first time this year, opened July 11 and will close Friday, August 24.

OPEN HOUSE WEDNESDAY

A highlight of the summer session will come Wednesday when an "open house" will be held at the day care center and the summer school.

Butler Twp. Bars Most Heavy Vehicles

An ordinance adopted by the Butler Twp. supervisors closes township roads to vehicles with a gross weight over eight tons with exceptions made for farm equipment, school buses and vehicles making local deliveries.

The ordinance, which was adopted August 6 by the township board and advertised this week, provides for a fine up to $50 for violations and up to 30 days in jail in default of the fine.

The supervisors said the measure was designed to protect township roads from damage by use by heavily loaded trucks which they are not designed to accommodate. Several township roads have been particularly subject to this kind of use and resulted in passage of the ordinance. All blacktop roads in the township are being posted with notices of this measure.

James H. Sandoe is chairman of the board of supervisors and James M. McDannell, secretary. Fred H. Taylor and Glenn Tuckey are the other supervisors.

Hand Signaling Ends October 31

The old hand-waving method used by generations of drivers to indicate a turning movement will lose nearly all legal sanction in Pennsylvania's Motor Vehicle Code later this year.

Commissioner of Traffic Safety O. D. Shipley today reminded motorists that all vehicles presently lacking electrically operated directional signals must have them installed by midnight of October 31, after which date only the flashing light system will have lawful standing. Hand signals may still be used to supplement the flashers and must be employed if the electrical system malfunctions.

State police said the pair are involved in a bad check case at the Armistead Store, east of here along the Lincoln Highway, in which Herbert F. Diterly, 46, Pennsburg R. 1, already has been charged.

Dieterly, Beamer and the Harman woman also are involved in the passing of three worthless checks at Kieffer's Market here. KENNEDY MAY NOT ASK FOR TAX CUT NOW

By EDMOND LEBRETON
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy will tell American taxpayers Monday whether he thinks an immediate tax cut is needed to feed more dollars into the sputtering economy.

The announcement that he will "discuss the nation's economy" on radio and television at 7 p.m. EDT Monday came after a White House conference on Friday between Kennedy and his top economic advisers.

Talk at the high-level meeting centered on the figures for the economy in July—the indicators Kennedy said would help him decide whether the economy needs more fuel to start it climbing again.

Some of the indicators point up, causing a rush of reports that Kennedy has made up his mind not to ask for an immediate cut but to stick to his plans for a reduction effective Jan. 1.

But the bare White House statement went no farther than saying he will discuss the economy.

In any case, Kennedy is expected to reiterate his opinion that personal and corporate income taxes should come down—with the reduction effective not later than Jan. 1—and to press again for congressional action on other measures he has proposed to needle the economy.

His half-hour talk will be carried live by the ABC, CBS and NBC television networks.

BULLETINS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate leaders filed a debate-limitation petition today in a move to break a filibuster against the administration's communications satellite bill.

The petition, which must get approval of a two-thirds majority of senators voting, will automatically come to a vote under the Senate's rules one hour after the Senate meets on Tuesday.

WASHINGTON (AP)—A still secret report by a New York labor lawyer proposes a top level shakeup of President Kennedy's committee on equal job rights for Negroes, a well-placed government source said today.

As outlined by the government source, the proposed reorganization may well turn out to be political dynamite for the Kennedy administration among Negro voters.

CHICAGO (AP)—A drive to bring economy to the nation's ailing railroads—at the expense of thousands of workers who would lose their jobs—is inching toward what one railroad spokesman calls "a final solution."

On Monday, says Howard Neitzert, chief attorney for the railroads, an appeal will be filed with the U.S. Court of Appeals. The court will be asked to vacate a temporary restraining order and allow the nation's rail operators to proceed with a half-billion dollar economy move.

ALGIERS (AP)—The Algerian guerrilla army faced its first real challenge today from the new nation's civilian authorities.

Ahmed Ben Bella's ruling Political Bureau announced Friday night a series of drastic measures to curb the local warlords who have levied their own taxes, requisitioned private property and lived on the land much as they did during the seven-year Algerian war.

The new measures were announced in a radio-television address by Ben Bella's right-hand man, Mohammed Khider.

Hoover Birthday Program Like Old-Fashioned Picnic

By SAUL PETT

WEST BRANCH, Iowa (AP)—It was an old-fashioned scene, warm and comforting, like the memory of an old July 4 picnic.

There was the park in the little crossroads town, the speakers on the flag-draped wooden platform, the little boys wrestling in the grass and playing in the creek during the oratory, the adult crowd squinting respectfully in the bright sun, the friendly trees, the little refreshment stands set up by the church groups, the high school bands, the flag and bunting over the street, the mothers holding up their babies to see the two aging men who had been presidents of the United States.

ARE FAST FRIENDS

They had come to see Herbert Hoover, 88, Friday, and Harry S. Truman, 78, dedicate the Hoover Presidential Library at his birthplace.

They saw two men who had become fast friends over the years despite broad differences in their politics and personalities. They loved them both, in different ways. They gave Hoover their respectful attention, murmured quietly over his understatement, and they laughed softly at his subtle humor. They yelped at Truman, and roared at his broad comedy. With deep feeling they sang, "Happy Birthday, Mr. Hoover." Truman sang along, too, and when it was over, he blew a kiss at the 31st president of the United States. Several people in the crowd

Miracle Surgery Offers Youngster Normal Life

LOS ANGELES (AP)—An 8-year-old boy, bright eyed and sparkling, sat quietly at a news conference while a surgeon told how the youngster had been taken apart and put back together again.

Timmy McCabe, born without abdominal muscles, was one of those rare cases doctors call "prune bellies." His internal organs were out of place, swollen and infected at birth. He was given virtually no chance to live.

"Give him lots of love," physicians said eight years ago. "There's nothing we can do for him."

NORMAL LIFE

But Dr. John M. Southwell, senior surgical resident of Childrens Hospital, explained Thursday that Timmy could expect to live a normal life—but probably shouldn't play tackle football.

Timmy is alive, the doctor said, because of an operation thought to be one of the first successful ones of its kind ever performed. Timmy has been a frequent patient at Childrens Hospital through most of his life. After five previous operations, he was wheeled into surgery last July 17. Surgeons worked for five hours to provide support for the distended

U.S. FIRES 2 MISSILES BUT 1 IS BLASTED

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The United States fired two ballistic missiles Friday—one a success, the other a failure—on opposite sides of the continent.

At Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif., foot-long fragments of an advanced Atlas F missile, intentionally blown up when it strayed off course, splattered a wide section of the Santa Maria Valley, northwest of Los Angeles.

Meanwhile, a Polaris A2 rocket was launched successfully at Cape Canaveral, Fla., in a test of components for the advanced A3 submarine model.

NO INJURIES, DAMAGE

The Air Force said strong winds blew particles of the Atlas over the mainland after the intercontinental rocket was exploded 35 miles off the coast.

No injuries or damage were reported.

Officials asked residents not to touch the pieces of debris, possibly contaminated by acid.

Witnesses said the 82½-foot missile—the only Atlas model stored in a silo before launch—vanished in a bright ball of orange flame, followed by a jarring roar heard for miles.

The goal of the giant missile was a target area near Wake Island 4,000 miles down the Pacific missile range.

The Polaris missile, said the Navy, streaked to its target 1,500 miles away after a ground launch.

The Polaris carried guidance, warhead and other components scheduled for use on the longer-range A3.

The A3 Polaris is designed for a 2,880-mile range. The A2, which is operational, can hit targets up to 1,725 miles away.

EYE SUITABLE SCHOOL SITES

Prospects for a joint senior high school which would accommodate students from both the Emmitsburg and Thurmont Districts appeared brighter this week when the Frederick County board of education reported it had been negotiating with several parties for the purchase of suitable land in the area.

It has been known for some years that the board was planning such a move but nothing has been heard of the matter for the past two years until this week.

Under consideration is land in the vicinity of U. S. 15 and the Orndorff Rd., about 3½ miles south of Emmitsburg, belonging to J. Norbert Wivell and Charles H. Jamison of Poolesville. The location is about half way between the two towns.

A tract of about 40 acres is being sought for the new school which in future years will house students from both of the north-county towns instead of having separate schools as is the present practice.

Other possible sites are also being explored. However, the committee of residents from the two communities working to get a consolidated school, had recommended the area around Orndorff Rd. as being most acceptable.

Long-range planning has the school being strictly senior high, however, it was reported that the ninth grade students from Thurmont might also attend the school.

The assertion was made Thursday night by Ernest M. Flagg, chairman of the Association of General Chairmen of the standard railroad labor organizations, a grouping of 19 AFL-CIO unions and one independent.

Flagg told a news conference that if the New Haven Railroad were to become part of the merger—a development he said he regarded as extremely possible—the competitive effect upon the Boston & Maine Railroad could be disastrous.

TEACHERS ARE

is now authorized to apply sanctions to school districts which it feels are not moving toward meeting minimum standards. The ultimate sanction could mean withdrawal of teacher services.

HEAR DR. BOEHM

Withdrawal of teacher services, Dr. Stinnett noted, "is not a strike." If and when such sanction is applied it would be effective with the next school year and would not result in a broken contract on the part of the teachers.

Emphasizing that he was making no attack on labor, Dr. Stinnett pictured unionization of the teacher as construction of a wall of divisiveness which would threaten the unity of the profession. The foundation of the wall, Dr. Stinnett said, is ineptness of professional organization, and the apex of the wall is an appeal to the easy way.

"There is no place for walls between schools and the people they serve," he declared in conclusion.

Dr. Charles Boehm, state superintendent of schools, who recently returned from Germany where he studied educational methods there, reminded the teachers of education's importance in the new scientific age.

"If America has a heritage, it is tied up with education as tightly as with defense," the state cabinet minister declared. Education, as a part of our nation's future and destiny, no longer is a luxury, he added.

Employment Is Up In Pennsylvania

NEW YORK (AP)—Non-farm employment in New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania increased in June by 69,000, the regional office of the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics reported Thursday.

Total non-agricultural employment in the three states reached 12,033,700, the bureau reported.

Two-thirds of the June increase resulted from seasonal gains in non-factory industries—primarily in construction, services, wholesale and retail trades.

Since June, 1961, the report said, employment in the tri-state region rose by 1.1 per cent, compared with a 2.3 per cent gain throughout the nation.

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Judge Ralph C. Body rejected a plea for leniency and sentenced David Crawford, 36, of Philadelphia, to 10 years in prison Wednesday on charges of dope peddling. Crawford was convicted June 8.

DOWNTOWN, Pa. (AP)—Funeral services were held Friday for Mrs. Charles L. Chamberlain, 79, of Downton, whose son, Elmer F. Schrumph, is president of the Downton Area Joint School Board. Mrs. Chamberlain died Tuesday in Coatesville Hospital.

among the pupils but without a specific testing program he would guess that their "IQ's are about average, just about like the pupils in our regular school sessions. Some of them are just wonderful and are very eager to learn and there are some that don't seem much more interested in learning than some of our regular pupils."

NOT COMPULSORY

Wenk noted that the summer school pupils are different in this respect: "They're all here because they want to be or their parents want them to be here, or both. There's no compulsion about it and there's no discipline problem."

Many of them are very grateful for the help they are getting here. The other day I discovered a girl, who said she had reached the Eighth Grade, did not know her third multiplication table. When I gave her and others copies of all of the tables, they thanked me for them."

School days are long ones at Bendersville where the pupils arrive by bus at 8 a.m., some of them after riding an hour. They are given breakfast. Then there is an assembly during which there is music—and a prayer. Classes run from about 9:15 to 11:15 with a 10:30 break for a snack.

A LONG DAY

Lunch is about 12:30 after which there is a rest period for the younger children and individual instruction for the older ones. Crafts, art, music, field trips, supervised play and movies are on the afternoon schedule with a glass of milk or some ice cream before the kiddies board the buses at 3 p.m. for their homeward trip.

"It's a long day," Wenk observed, "but it fits in pretty well with their parents' day at home. By the time the youngsters get home, their parents have returned from work to take care of them and in the morning the youngsters leave for school soon after their parents go off to work in the fields and orchards."

For some of the youngsters, the summer session is a prelude to regular fall classes in Bermudian Springs, Upper Adams or Franklin Twp. Schools, for some parents will stay over for the apple picking.

ENLARGING STAFF

The wide range in ages and the heavier than expected enrollment has made it necessary to expand the school's staff. On Monday, James Slaybaugh, a teacher at the Eisenhower School here, was added as an instructor and next Monday, Mrs. Clair Settle, Biglerville music teacher, will join the staff to teach music and dancing.

Besides the principal, Mr. Wenk, who is Bendersville School principal during the regular school year, the school's staff includes Miss Lima Lehmer and Mrs. Naomi Fox, in addition to Mr. Slaybaugh. Miss Sally Kilmer directs the day care center. Last year she was employed on a similar project in Potter County. Her staff includes Miss Fern Young, Miss Sara Rice and Mrs. Mildred Jones, who is in charge of the two-year-olds with the help of her daughter, Ann Smith. A cafeteria staff serves the meals.

Youngsters are enrolled for the day care center and the school by a social worker who visits the labor camps and after the youngsters arrive they are given physical examinations, are vaccinated and receive polio shots if they have not already received such attention.

NO ONE WILL 'FLUNK'

Wenk said there has not been much turnover in the enrollment as many of the workers stay here for the harvest season after coming here from the south or Puerto Rico. Some, however, go on to Erie or other counties in this state funds.

Miss Marilyn Culp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold W. Culp, 144 Hanover St., graduated from Mercy Hospital School of Nursing, Pittsburgh, at commencement exercises held Friday evening in Rockwell Hall, Duquesne University, Pittsburgh.

The diplomas were presented by the Rev. Anthony Bosco to the class of 69 girls and two male students. Caps and pins were presented to the graduates by Sr. M. Paulinus and Sr. M. Vincent.

Miss Culp returned to Gettysburg with her parents for a month's vacation.

Michigan Wing Is CAP Drill Winner

AIR FORCE ACADEMY, Colo. (AP)—The Michigan Wing of the Civil Air Patrol won the CAP's 16th annual drill competition held here Wednesday.

Cadet Lt. George S. Monaghan of Philadelphia accepted the second place trophy for the Pennsylvania Wing.

Teams consisted of a captain and 18 competing members, with two alternates. Judging was by Air Force cadets.

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP)—Heavyweight boxing champion Floyd Patterson and contender Sonny Liston are both scheduled to appear at the annual Christmas charity fund show of the Elks Lodge Monday.

A spokesman said Friday night that light heavyweight champion Harold Johnson has also promised to attend. About 10,000 are expected at the variety and amateur boxing show.

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Stanley Sincavage, 50, of West Wyoming, Pa., an international vice president of the American Bakery and Confectionery Workers Union, died Tuesday while attending a meeting of Local 6.

COLUMBIA, Pa. (AP)—Mrs. Rebecca Detwiler, 51, a divorcee, died of smoke inhalation Wednesday when her bed clothing caught fire. Police said the blaze apparently started when Mrs. Detwiler was smoking in bed.

and New York and then go south again for the orange harvest, giving their children little opportunity for schooling.

The summer school ends in two weeks but the day care center will continue until September 21 and will move to the Aspers fire hall when the Bendersville School opens for its regular term next month.

There will not be any tests and no one will "pass or flunk" the summer session. There will not be the usual report cards but the staff is considering issuing some sort of statement to each pupil showing the stage of scholastic attainment for the guidance of schoolmen in future schools they may enter.

The program for school age youngsters at Bendersville was set up by the county board of school directors and the county superintendent's office using about $7,500 made available in state funds.

ROBERTS TOPS BALLOTS FOR COURT SLATE

HARRISBURG (AP)—The 113-member Republican State Committee faced a showdown today on its choice of a candidate for the state Supreme Court.

A special committee failed at a two-hour meeting Friday night to agree unanimously on one of four candidates proposed by party leaders.

Though the 17-member special group did not endorse a candidate, a single ballot taken at the meeting gave Judge Samuel J. Roberts, Erie, an overwhelming edge going into the state committee session today.

REPORT RESULTS

Following the meeting Republican State Chairman George I. Bloom reported the results of the ballot were Roberts, 13 votes; Judge Edward J. Griffiths, Philadelphia, 3 and Judge Alfred L. Taxis, Montgomery County, 1. Judge Herman L. Rodgers, Mercer, did not receive a vote.

The big question was whether the powerful Philadelphia delegation would turn the nomination into a floor battle today.

Asked about the prospects of a fight, Bloom said:

FINE CANDIDATES

"All are very fine candidates. I hope there will be no floor fight."

Wilbur Hamilton, Philadelphia GOP chairman, offered a terse "No comment."

The two major political parties have until Sept. 24 to certify candidates for the Nov. 6 election to fill the court vacancy created by the death of Justice Curtis Bok, a Democrat.

Democrats have not fixed a date for meeting on their candidate.

Before the meeting got underway Friday night, Bloom said he had not received any word from U.S. Rep. William W. Scranton on his preference for a Supreme Court running mate. Scranton is GOP candidate for governor.

Says "Drop-Outs" Are Real Problem

"Drop-outs" rated top billing Thursday night as the district superintendent presented his annual report to the regular meeting of the Chambersburg Borough School Board.

In a commentary on the exhaustive report, Dr. Edson B. Powell pointed especially to 115 drop-outs in Grades 8, 10 and 11 and a grand total of drop-outs for Grades 7 through 12 of 171, "enough to start a school of their own."

"Loss of this number of pupils," observed Dr. Powell, "is very serious, and it deserves careful consideration and study by the entire populace."

TO SHOW FILM

"Filipino Passion," one of the color films of the T. L. Osborn Evangelistic Association will be shown on Monday at 7:30 p.m. at the Lincolnway Full Gospel Center, one mile west of Abbottstown on Route 30.

This film is noted for its scenes of native life in mountain villages seldom, if ever, filmed.

LEWISBURG, Pa. (AP)—Gene Evans, Carlisle High School basketball coach, will take over as head basketball coach at Bucknell University Sept. 15.

Dr. Mark C. Ebersole, vice president for academic affairs at the university, announced the appointment of Evans, 35, Friday.

Evans succeeds Ben Krebs, who was appointed director of athletics.

Today's Talk

STRANGERS
Most of the people we meet from day to day, especially in the larger cities, or if we travel a great deal, are strangers. They dress much the same as we do, they eat at the same tables, stay at the same hotels, ride in cars or take planes much the same as we do — excepting when we choose to do something just a little out of the ordinary. And yet, our journey through life is beset with strangers.

You, I — all of us — are strangers to somebody. And much of the time we are strangers to ourselves. We are strangers to the bird or beast which we fail to note. We are strangers to the beautiful flower of springtime that bloomed for us but which we didn't notice until we had trampled it underfoot.

We are strangers to our would-be friends. I once knew a man who was worth millions. But when I visited his home he showed me his magnificent library — which someone else bought for him. To him all those beautifully bound books were strangers, as silent as the ice of the North Pole.

Happiness is within the reach of all and yet great crowds of strangers gather about it, not knowing that their choicest lot in life is just within their grasp. Art is near, science is near, literature is near, beauty is near, love is near. Opportunity for great service is always near.

All too often the stranger wants to be your friend. And so do the riches of life await your reach. Protected, 1962, by The George Matthews Adams Service

THE FRIEND AWAY

There's a friend not here whom I needed so.
Now the roads seem dull where we used to go
And the lake and sky which were once so blue
Seemed darkened today by a somber hue.

Time was I thought that the woods were all,
That beauty dwelt where the trees are tall;
That music lived in the wild birds' song
But my friend's away and I find I'm wrong.

Though all things near are green and gold
They lack the charm which they used to hold.
And the place seems lonely and chill and gray
And nothing's the same with my friend away.

PALMER LEADS GOLF TOURNEY BY 5 STROKES

By JOE MOOSHIL
Associated Press Sports Writer
AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Arnold Palmer apparently has only Arnold Palmer to fear in his bid for the top prize in the American Golf Classic which enters the third round today.

The powerful Pennsylvanian, threatening to make the $50,000 tournament a one-man show, charged out in front of the field by five strokes Friday with a magnificent 67-69-136 after 36 holes of the 72-hole tournament.

Palmer, who usually charges from behind to overwhelm his opponents, might get careless because of his commanding lead. This appears to be the only thing to prevent him from winning his eighth tournament this year, and surpassing his own earnings record in one year.

EARN $71,198
Palmer has earned $71,198 this year and either first place money of $9,000 or the second prize of $4,600 would put him ahead of his 1960 earnings of $75,262.

Palmer's 34-35-69 Friday included some of the best golf he has ever played, two birdies and five pars in the first hole. Palmer thought he played better Friday than he did the first round when he had a 36-31-67.

Well behind Palmer and in second place was Don January, who had a 34-36-70 after a first round 71 Thursday.

The Firestone course's massive 7,165 yards so far has proved to be too much for the rest of the field, including U.S. Open Champion Jack Nicklaus and PGA titlist Gary Player. Nicklaus started out with a 72 and then had a 34-36-70 after beginning with two birdies on his first three holes.

OTHER SCORES
Player who had a 71 Thursday went out in 37 Friday and then closed with a 34, although he bogeyed the 18th hole.
Palmer is the only one to put together two sub-par rounds. Jim Ferrier George Bayer and Mike Souchak all opened with 69s. But Bayer and Souchak had 74s in the second round and Ferrier had a 76.

Matching Palmer's 69 Friday were Billy Maxwell, Bob Goaly and Dow Finsterwald. Goaly moved into a tie with Nicklaus. Player, Dave Ragan and Jackie Cupit at 142. Maxwell was bracketed at 143 and Finsterwald was among those with 145 totals.

Bob Feerick To Coach Warriors

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Bob Feerick, 42, a college basketball coach best known for his deliberate style teams, returns to the pro side of the sport this season as coach of the San Francisco Warriors of the National Basketball League.

Feerick, University of Santa Clara coach the past 12 years, was named Thursday to succeed Frank McGuire who decided not to follow the Warriors in their move from Philadelphia to San Francisco.

Ferrick, signed to a three-year pact, inherits a team led by Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain, holder of every major one-season NBA scoring record. "I've never met Wilt," said Feerick, "But I've seen him on TV games about 30 times and in person six or seven games. He's really a hard worker."

WILLS OUT TO SET NEW MARK

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Maury Wills, the nation's largest independent steal producer, predicted today he will break the National League record for stolen bases. Last year, when he led the league with 35 steals, the little Dodger shortstop was permitted to run only when he got an okay from his bench. This season Dodger Manager Walt Alston granted Wills independence.

Now, 60 stolen bases later, Wills needs only 21 more steals to surpass the league record established 51 years ago by Bob Bescher of Cincinnati.

"I think I can make it now," Wills said. "I'm not going to run to the club, but I'm not going to stop running just because the club happens to be away ahead in a game and we don't need the extra base."

"I'm so close. And I don't think I'll ever have this chance again." How about Ty Cobb's major league record of 96 stolen bases? "I'll let you know how I feel about that," Wills said, "when I get to 80."
He stole two bases against the Phils Wednesday night as the Dodgers won 3-1.

EARLY WYNN SNARES 298TH HURLING WIN

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
Old Early Wynn made his major league debut when hamburgers were a nickel, someone named Mysterious Al Hostak was the middleweight champion, and "Gone With the Wind" was winning Academy Awards.

The five-cent hamburger is, of course, a thing of the past. Mysterious Al is long since retired. But Rhet Butler, 42, Scarlett O'Hara and tough old Early still are kicking around.

The Chicago White Sox right-hander, who first appeared in the majors in 1939 moved to within two giant steps of the principal milestone of his major-league career Friday night, beating the Kansas City Athletics 3-1.

WINS 298TH GAME
The victory was his 298th, placing him within two of the charmed 300 circle which has been reached only 13 times. It gave Wynn, sometimes called Old Gus, a 6-8 record for the year and represented his third try at gaining No. 298.

The New York Yankees bombed him in one outing, and he was the victim of a 1-0 no-hit performance by Boston's Bill Monbouquette in the other. This one didn't come easy, either. Baseball's senior performer had to have help from Dean Stone in the eighth when he apparently tired.

In the other American League games, the leading Yankees bombed Detroit 8-0, the Los Angeles Angels remained five games back on the strength of Dean Chance's five-hit pitching and Leon Wagner's 11th inning single which edged Minnesota 1-0, and Pete Ramos and Cleveland shut out Washington 3-0. Baltimore at Boston was postponed by rain.

RICHARDSON HOMERS

Bobby Richardson and Bill Skowron led New York's 15-hit assault on Paul Foytack and three other Detroit pitchers. Richardson had a two-run homer and two singles, while Skowron contributed two doubles and a single. Whitey Ford (12-5) got credit for the victory but retired in favor of Marshall Bridges when the Tigers threatened in the eighth.

Chance (10-6), a rookie right-hander for the Angels, struck out seven, walked only three and let Minnesota get only one man past second as the Angels took sole possession of second. Twin lefty Jim Kaat (12-10), who shut out Los Angeles twice this season, had a three-hit shutout going into the 11th when Steven Bilko got an in-

Parker Takes 31 Rookies To Steelers' Grid Camp

By JOE BRADIS
Associated Press Sports Writer
PITTSBURGH (AP) — Like a mechanic, Coach Buddy Parker knows you need good sparkplugs to run a car. So to generate some spark in the Pittsburgh Steelers, he's brought 31 rookie pass receivers and runners to camp.

The key man is Bob Ferguson, the 220-pound All-America fullback from Ohio State. He can run through the line, and with speed once he gets into the open. In the recent All-America game at Buffalo, Ferguson ran for the winning touchdown and picked up the most valuable player award.

MAY MOVE JOHNSON

Parker plans to start the veteran Henry Johnson at fullback. But if Ferguson gets rolling Johnson will be moved to halfback. "We'll just have to wait and see," cautions Parker. "Ferguson should be a big help. However, we still need an outside runner and a good pass receiver."

In the latter category, he's selected Harlon Hill from the Chicago Bears an eight-year veteran in the National Football League. Parker, noted for securing extra mileage out of veteran players, hopes Hill who was used last year in Chicago as a defensive back, can fill the bill in the receiving department.

For outside running he's counting on Gary Ballman, a 195-pounder who enjoyed tremendous sophomore and junior years at Michigan State; Jack Collins of Texas, a key performer in the Longhorns' outstanding season last year, and Joe Womach of Los Angeles, whom West Coast experts insist can't miss in pro ball.

LAYNE, BROWN READY

One reason for the Steelers' let-down last year was the injury to veteran quarterback Bobby Layne. Still another was what Parker calls give-aways.

Layne reports he's ready to go. So does veteran Ed Brown, obtained in another trade with the Bears. The third quarterback battling for a starting job is Terry Nofsinger a holdover.

STRONGEST LINK

Without a question, the Steelers' strongest link is defense. They were statistically the best in the league last year, giving up only 1,463 yards on the ground.

Back again to haunt the opposition are veterans Bib Daddyscomb, Ernie Stautner and sophomore Myron Pottios, formerly of Notre Dame. Parker feels Pottios will experience can be another Joe Schmidt, who won All-League honors while Parker was coach of the Detroit Lions.

"There's no question in my mind this is my best squad, my best balanced squad on both offense and defense," Parker states confidently. "We're ready to hold our own with the best."

GIANTS BEAT DODGERS 11-2 FRIDAY NIGHT

By MIKIE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

The sound went unheard by batter Willie Mays.

But Umpire Ed Sudol detected the slight collision of bat and ball.

That turned out to be the key play of Friday night's key game in which the second-place San Francisco Giants walloped Los Angeles 11-2 and trimmed the Dodgers' National League lead to 4½ games in the opener of their important three-game series.

Mays came to bat in the sixth inning with the score tied 2-2. The count went to 3-2, Johnny Podres fired, Mays swung—and thinking he had missed, started toward the dugout, although catcher Johnny Roseboro had dropped the ball.

STROKES A DOUBT

Sudol ruled it a foul tip.

Mays returned to the batter's box and stroked a double.

An obviously miffed Podres stomped around at the mound, then came a few steps off to begin a war of words with Sudol.

Dodger Coach Leo Durocher hustled out to calm the Dodger left-hander and wound up in an argument with Sudol.

The result: Durocher was ejected, Podres was bombed. The Giants poured in six runs and went on to the easy triumph behind the five-hit pitching of Billy O'Dell.

Elsewhere in the NL, third-place Cincinnati used Frank Robinson's two homers for a 3-4 triumph over the New York Mets.

Warren Spahn got victory No. 321 as Milwaukee edged Houston 7-6. St. Louis defeated Philadelphia 7-4 and the Chicago Cubs topped Pittsburgh 7-6.

ROBINSON HIT 52

Robinson triggered the Reds' victory over the Mets, hitting homers in the first and fourth while starting a four-run third-inning uprising with a double.

Frank Thomas and Mary Thonberry accounted for the New York runs with homers off Jim Maloney (6-4), who hurled a six-hitter. Al Jackson (6-14) lost it.

Hank Aaron paced the Braves, rapping three singles, stealing two bases and scoring three runs in support of Spahn (12-11), who needed relief help from Don Nottebart and Claude Raymond.

Nottebart came in when the Colts tagged the 41-year-old Spahn for three runs in the sixth—two on Roman Mejias' 12nd homer, Joe Adcock hit No. 24 for the Braves.

The defeat was charged to former Brave George Brunet (0-1).

The Cardinals ran their winning streak to four—and extended the Phillies' losing string to eight.

with a three-run seventh inning rally that snapped a 3-3 tie. Bobby Shantz (4-2) picked up the victory in relief with Chris Short (5-7) taking the loss.

The Cubs and Pirates lashed out 27 hits before a ninth-inning double by Ken Hubbs and Billy Williams' single sent the winning run across for the Cubs. The Pirates had tied it in the top half of the inning on an error and Roberto Clemente's double—his third hit of the game. Barney Shultz (5-5) won it and Elroy Face (8-3) was the loser.

GRID PHYSICAL EXAMS SLATED

With the opening of the 1962 schoolboy pre-season football drills due to start next Saturday according to the PJAA rules, many of the area high schools have announced schedules for physical examinations. All of the examinations will be given this week and all candidates are urged to attend on the given dates.

GETTYSBURG
Don Young, head coach, announced earlier in the week that all physical examinations will be given at the high school on Thursday at 10 a.m.

DELONE
Delone will conduct its pre-season physicals at the high school in McSherrystown on Thursday at 9 a.m. John T. Flaherty, athletic director, announced that the first physicals were given last Thursday, but anyone who missed the first date is urged to attend next Thursday's sessions.

LITTLESTOWN
William Heyser, new head coach, has announced that a special meeting of all candidates will be held on Monday at the high school at 8:30 p.m. Physical examinations will be given to all varsity candidates on Thursday, starting at 8 a.m.

BIGLERSVILLE
All boys enrolled in grades nine through 12 who are interested in trying out for the varsity squad, are asked to report to the high school on Thursday morning for physical examinations. The exams will start promptly at 8 o'clock.

PACKERS WIN 31-7 BATTLE

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Just in case anyone has any ideas of unseating them from their throne, the mighty Green Bay Packers have decided to use some terror tactics.

The Packers, National Football League champions, opened their exhibition season Friday night and crushed the Dallas Cowboys, 31-7, in the Cotton Bowl in muggy 90 degree weather.

Green Bay halfback Paul Hornung kicked a field goal, scored on a five-yard run and chipped in with four points after touchdowns. Elijah Pitts also bucked for one touchdown, while Bart Starr and John Roshan each passed for one.

The American Football League exhibition season, which opened last week, continued with the defending champion Houston Oilers trouncing the Denver Broncos, 33-17, at Atlanta.

Veteran George Blanda kicked four field goals and added three conversions for the Oilers. Billy Cannon, who signed a new $100,000 contract earlier this week, treated the crowd to a dazzling 29-yard touchdown run.

Denver appeared much sharper than last year and held a 14-13 half-time margin mainly through the efforts of Frank Tripucka, whose passes set up the touchdowns.

SP Bottom Half Battles Leaders

The bottom half of the league standing could spell trouble for the league leaders in this week's South Penn baseball schedule. The big tilt of the weekend will be a playoff between Fairfield and New Oxford, this afternoon at New Oxford. Both teams battled to a 6-6 tie Wednesday evening and will replay the game today.

Sunday's full card includes Harney (1-17) at Taneytown (9-11); New Oxford (15-4) at Mummansburg (8-11); Littlestown (14-5) at McSherrystown (9-10); Bonneauville (7-11) at Arendtsville (12-7); Brutsman (6-12) at Fairfield (11-7); and Gettysburg (14-5) at Cashtown (6-12).

CHANCE BEATS TWINS 1-0 IN 11

By CHARLES MAHER
Associated Press Sports Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP)—If Dean Chance of the Los Angeles Angels ever suspected he had blundered into the wrong profession, it was probably late the night of last July 27 in Detroit.

After fielding a ground ball in the ninth inning that night, the 21-year-old rookie pitcher pulled one of the most outrageous boners of the season.

With a chance to start an easy game-ending double play by throwing to the plate, he threw instead to first base and the Angels blew the game 4-3.

But Chance is still pitching for the Angels. And since July 27 he has suffered substantially less embarrassment than the teams he has pitched against.

Friday night, the young right-hander pitched an 11-inning shut-out and scored the first shut-out of his major league career as the Angels broke their second-place tie with Minnesota by defeating the Twins 1-0.

Chance (10-6) struck out seven, walked three and let the Twins get only one runner beyond second base. It was his third straight victory.

MURRAY ROSE CAPTURES 400 METER SWIM

By ROBERT L. SHAFFER
CUYAHOGA FALLS, Ohio (AP)—Murray Rose, a self-styled "old man" of the swimming world, continues his personal vendetta against the youngsters today after a sparkling opening day victory in the AAU national men's outdoor swimming championships.

"We showed them the old timers can do it sometimes—with a little bit of luck," said the 23-year-old Australian, climbing out of the pool after whipping 17-year-old Roy Saari of El Segundo, Calif., in the 400-meter freestyle Friday.

Rose lost to Saari in three events at the National Indoor meet at Bartlesville, Okla. last spring. Rose said he had been working hard since finishing work at the University of Southern California and is down near the 174-pound weight at which he swam in the Olympics at Melbourne in 1956. He carried off three gold medals that year. He was in top form Friday as he was clocked in 4:17.2, and finished five meters ahead of 16-year-old Don Schollander of the Santa Clara (Calif.) Swim Club.

Saari was fourth at 4:24.4. John Konrads, another Aussie, who holds the world record of 4:15.9 for the event, failed to qualify for the finals.

Rose has Saari and Konrads for competition today in the 200-meter freestyle, one of the last events on the three-day program. Schollander also is entered in the 200-meter freestyle.

Also looking for double victories today are Tom Stock and Ted Stickle, two Indiana University aces who powered their way to world records in the opening event Friday; breaststroker Chet Jas-trenski, another Indiana star; and Ed Spencer of North Carolina State.

Stickle shattered his own listed world record in the 400-meter individual medley with a time of 4:51.5, finishing some five meters ahead of Gerhard Hetz, the West German ace. Stickle's listed record is 4:55.6, but he has a mark of 4:51.0 pending for recognition.

MAJOR LEAGUE STARS
PITCHING—Dean Chance, Angels, went all the way in 1-0, 11-inning victory over Minnesota, limiting Twins to five hits for first major league shutout and gave Los Angeles undisputed possession of second place in the American League.

BATTING—Willie Mays, Giants, hit 35th homer for first San Francisco run, then doubled to start six-run sixth that wrapped up a victory over National League leading Los Angeles.

Redcoat Wheat Turned In Highest Yields In 15 Pa. Variety Tests This Year

By FRANK S. ZETTLÉ
Adams County Farm Agent

The new Redcoat winter wheat variety which became available to farmers a year ago was the highest yielding variety in 15 variety demonstrations in Pennsylvania this year. In spite of the drought, the 1962 variety demonstration yielded as well as in 1960 and 1961. In 1962, Redcoat averaged 43.9 bushels per acre, Dual 39.7 bushels, Seneca 39.7 bushels and Pennoll 38.8 bushels per acre.

Frank S. Zettlé

at the rate of three bushels per acre. Disk in 50-50-50 (example 500 lbs. per acre of 10-10-10). Do not drill any fertilizer directly with the seed.

Pasture down to about three inches in the fall. In the spring rye can be pastured when it is about six inches tall. A fair grain crop can be harvested if rye is not severely pastured in the fall, and if grazed moderately until near the heading stage in the spring. Do not plant rye for pasture on heavy wet soil. Pick your better drained locations.

HIGH YIELDING ALFALFA

Farmers planning to make new alfalfa seedings in August should use new higher yielding varieties. Many reliable dealers have quality seed of the new varieties.

Vernal is a wilt-resistant, high-yielding, very winter-hardy variety adapted for growing on well-drained soils in all Pennsylvania counties. It is dark green, very leafy and fine stemmed. In full bloom, flower color ranges from white to light blue through green and yellow to purple. This variety is good where long-lived stands are wanted.

Buffalo, a wilt-resistant, moderate winter-hardy variety is adapted only to longer growing season areas in southern Pennsylvania, and makes rapid growth and quick recovery after cutting if grown in areas where best adapted.

EXCELLENT VIGOR

Du Puits and Alfa are nonwilt resistant, high yielding, vigorously growing alfalfas with dark green leaves. They show excellent seedling vigor, enabling them to become established when fall seeded. They generally recover faster after cutting than other varieties. However, they tend to become stemmy as they mature, so for better use, first cutting should be made by early bloom stage for silage. These varieties and other nonwilt resistant varieties should not be seeded on land where wilt diseases are beginning to appear.

Narragansett is a nonwilt resistant, high yielding, winter-hardy, fine stemmed variety with flower colors ranging from yellow to purple. It seems to become better established than other varieties on heavy soil where drainage is marginal. It's expected to have greater use in northern and high elevation counties.

RYE AS EMERGENCY CROP

Rye is Pennsylvania's most productive small grain pasture crop. It can lengthen the pasture season in the fall and spring a total of six to eight weeks. In times of distress due to drought conditions it can materially reduce the barn-feeding period.

Rye can be planted as early as mid-August and can be seeded later than any small grain crop. It can be grazed in four to six weeks after seeding depending on moisture and soil fertility conditions.

Use Balbo rye for the earliest pasture and Tetra-Petkus for later pasture. Balbo is about 10 days earlier than Tetra-Petkus. Seed

FARM CALENDAR

Soil Test — If you plan to make an August seeding, are you sure how much lime and fertilizer is needed per acre? Not being sure may make the difference between a good "catch" or failure. Have your soil tested, says Wayne Hinrich, Penn State extension agronomist.

Divide Iris Plants Now — If your iris are too crowded, now is the time to divide them, Lynn Smith, Penn State extension floriculturist advises. Best results come from immediate transplanting.

Sawdust Makes Good Mulch — Contrary to popular belief, sawdust does not make your soil turn acid enough to worry about, says J. O. Dutt, Penn State extension vegetable gardening specialist. No sawdust, except that from walnut wood has a toxic effect on soil. Sawdust mulch holds water well.

Redcoat Wheat Yields Well — New Redcoat wheat variety is leading in yield on seven demonstrations, reports Elmer C. Pifer, Penn State extension agronomist. Yield data is not yet complete from nine other locations.

Number Dairy Cows Down — Number of cows in Pennsylvania milking herds dropped from 830,000 during January to 870,000 during May, 1962. However, Fred Hughes, Penn State farm management specialist, reports that milk output per cow was up about three per cent over the same five month period in 1961.

Always Label Poisons And Explosives — Keep them away from children. It may be safer to destroy the little that is left around than to run risk of children or animals getting to them before they are needed next season.

CANCEL FLIGHT SCHEDULED TO FLY SPY TO U.S.

By RAYMOND E. PALMER

LONDON (AP) — Israel's El Al Airline cancelled today the New York-bound flight which Britain said must take fugitive spy Dr. Robert Soblen back to the United States.

The Israeli national airline, which has failed to meet three British deadlines for getting Soblen back to America, said in Tel Aviv the flight had been cancelled because the Boeing 707 jetliner was "undergoing ultrasonic structural crack inspection" on the manufacturer's orders.

British Home Secretary Henry Brooke was reported giving urgent consideration to the latest impasse in his efforts to expel the 61-year-old psychiatrist, who faces a life prison term for passing wartime U.S. secrets to the Soviet Union.

The El Al flight originally was scheduled to arrive Friday, but was postponed until today by what a spokesman said was mechanical trouble with one of the plane's engines. He said the difficulty had "no connection with Dr. Soblen."

When the midnight deadline passed, the Home Office ordered the Israeli national airline specifically to take Soblen on the rescheduled flight.

The next regularly scheduled El Al flight to New York is due to leave London at 11:45 p.m. Sunday (9:45 a.m. EST).

El Al, which is acting under Israeli government orders, repeatedly has said it would not fly Soblen, who is now in London's Brixton Prison, to New York.

The British government could take steps against the airline's landing rights in Britain for its failure to meet previous deadlines.

LOSES $8,000 AT GUNPOINT

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Oscar A. Brown, 53, told police Friday that two robbers forced him at gunpoint to draw $8,000 in cash from his savings account and hand it over to them.

Brown told them: one of the gunmen held a pistol in his back at the tellers window of the Federal Savings and Loan Association in suburban Collingdale.

They had accosted him, he said, outside the bank, demanded his money and then noticed his savings account book in his pocket. They looked at the total, $8,200, and told him to go back into the office and draw out $8,000, Brown said.

When he asked the clerk for the money, she called the manager, Milton S. Kampmeyer, who counted it out for him.

Brown, of Sharon Hill, said the two men then forced him to drive around Darby Township until they ordered him to stop at an intersection, where they fled on foot.

Brown said one of the men had a cast on his right arm and a scar on his face.

Although alcoholism cannot be inherited, the Florida Alcoholism Rehabilitation Program says the presence of an alcoholic parent in a child's environment may sometimes produce emotional conflicts in the child which can cause him to be susceptible to alcoholism later in life.

Several small lots, good and choice 62-88 lb. spring slaughter lambs, $22.85-24; few lots utility and good 68-78 lbs., $16.10-21.50; few head utility and good shorn slaughter ewes, $5-6.75.

Kennedy Needs More Party Officials To Swing Policy

EDITOR'S NOTE — Three months from now the entire House of Representatives and more than one-third of the Senate will be up for re-election. At that time the American people will have their opportunity to express judgment on the administration's record to date. The outlook is examined by AP reporter Reiman Morin in this fifth and concluding article on Kennedy at mid-term.

By RELMAN MORIN
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy already is sniffing the heady scent of the campaign trail, three months before the off-year elections.

It's not only because he enjoys campaigning. This year he has some special interests. He wants to try to elect Democrats who will support him in Congress, to give him what he would consider a true working majority. And he wants to discuss, from the public platform, those issues on which he says "the American people are rather evenly divided."

NOVEMBER ELECTIONS

In November, the entire House of Representatives and 39 senators (five filling unexpired terms) stand for re-election. Along with his judgment of the individual candidate, the American voter will have the opportunity to express his opinion of the President's program, especially the controversial portions of it.

These include health assistance for the aged, the farm bill, the proposal for a department of urban affairs, and the general education bill.

Conservative Democrats joined with the Republicans in blocking this legislation.

Kennedy recently was asked if he will take "reprisals" against such Democrats. He answered "no" and said most of them come from "one-party areas." He went on to say:

"I'm going to help elect Democrats who support this program. The areas I'll be campaigning in are . . . where there will be a very clear choice between Republicans who oppose these actions and Democrats who support them."

At present, there are 263 Democrats and 174 Republicans in the House of Representatives. The lineup in the Senate is 64 to 36.

That looks like a working majority for the President. But he frequently points out that the tally on some key measures has been very close and that a switch of only two or three votes would have changed defeat to victory.

The Republicans, meanwhile, gleefully remind him that when the Senate killed "Medicare," 21 Democrats including a number of the committee chairmen, voted against the bill. They hoot at his description of this total as "a handful."

Kennedy says that if the Democrats lose five seats in the House in November, his working majority, "such as it is," will be gone.

He would like to gain five seats, and to pick up 10 would be "wonderful."

ADVISORS' VIEW

His advisors, who demonstrated considerable political acumen during his own campaign of 1960, say it will be a victory if Democratic majorities hold at the present levels—in short, if they can break even.

Four principal imperponderables bear on the outlook for November.

One is the economy. A recession, whatever the dimensions, would give the Republicans added ammunition. They already are calling the break in stock market prices the "Kennedy crash."

PERSONAL POPULARITY

A second is the perennial question: Can a popular president invest the candidates in his party with some of his popularity? Polls indicate that Kennedy's stock is high now. But not even former President Eisenhower's immense popularity was enough to give him a Republican Congress.

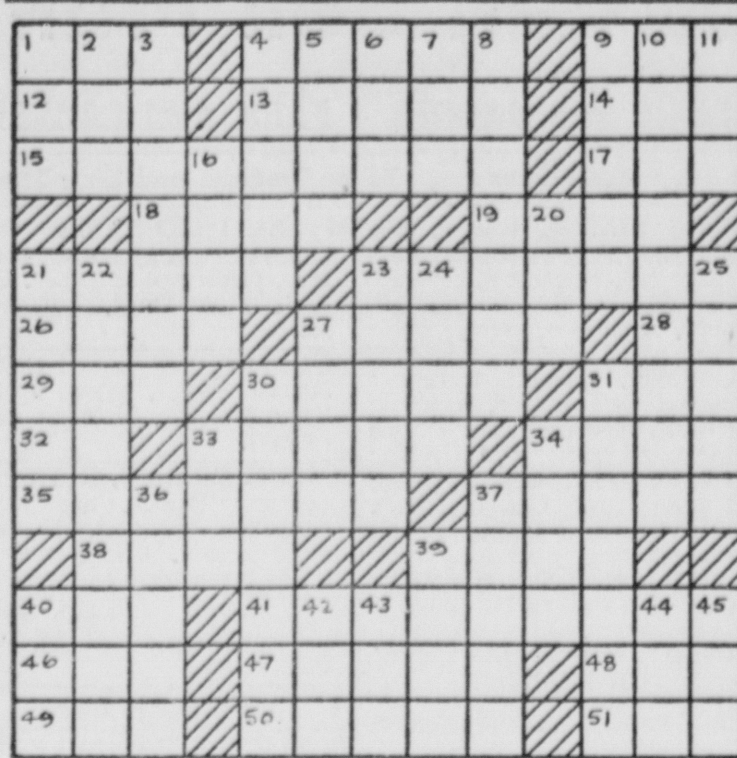

The third imperponderable pivots on the ability of Kennedy and other Democrats to explain complicated legislation, and to fire the voters to indignation over what Congress did to specific measures. The proposal for a department of urban affairs, for example. How many people understand what its functions would be and why the administration says such an agency is needed?

Health assistance for the aged is another case in point. The pros and cons of the various proposals on it are not easy to understand. The White House mail reportedly shows that a majority of the writers favor Kennedy's proposal, but not by an overwhelming margin. Anyway, since letter-writing campaigns can be organized, the mail is not necessarily a reliable barometer of public opinion.

And finally, there is the factor of political history.

In all the mid-term elections of this century, the party holding the White House made relative gains

Ag Lawyer Testifies Estes Was Let Off Hook At Plea Of Texas Cong. Rutherford

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Senate investigation focused Friday on testimony that the Agriculture Department once let Billie Sol Estes off the hook after a Texas congressman complained it was "crucifying" Estes.

John C. Bagwell, the department's general counsel, told the Senate Investigations subcommittee Thursday that the complaint of Rep. J. T. Rutherford, D-Tex., was a factor in calling a meeting of top department officials last Jan. 6 which rescinded orders canceling as illegal Estes' profitable dealings in cotton planting acreages.

In Congress only once. In 1934, during Franklin D. Roosevelt's first term, the Democrats picked up 10 Senate seats and nine in the House. Otherwise, the "ins" always lost ground. Thus, Kennedy frequently says, "history is against us."

Estes, a Pecos, Tex., promoter, was a politically potent figure in West Texas until his arrest last spring on fraud charges.

READS STATEMENT

Bagwell read a statement Thursday reciting events he said had led up to and had marked the January meeting. He said no transcript was kept of what went on at the meeting, but that his statement was reconstructed from memory last May 15.

Bagwell said Rutherford telephoned Undersecretary of Agriculture Charles S. Murphy about Jan. 3 protesting the department's ruling that Estes and his associates had illegally obtained allotments allowing them to plant an extra 3,123 acres of cotton under government supports. Bagwell quoted Rutherford as requesting a reconsideration of the case and protesting that "we were crucifying them."

Rutherford said John Dennison, an attorney for Estes, had asked him to request a new hearing and "in so doing told me he felt his client was being 'crucified.' In using that word I was simply passing on to the department the attorney's contention."

RESCIND ORDERS

The Jan. 6 meeting, attended by Murphy, Bagwell and other top Agriculture Department officials, rescinded the orders Bagwell had issued cancelling the disputed Estes acreage allotments.

The subcommittee is investigating whether Estes profited from political influence and whether favoritism hampered the department's investigations of his multimillion-dollar manipulations under farm aid programs.

YOUNG ARTIST USES GADGETS FOR PAINTING

NEW YORK (AP)—Think of all the time wasted by Rembrandt, Michelangelo and the rest of those old-fashioned masters of the brush-and-palette days.

Sketching, mixing colors, daubing away year after year. And for what? Only paintings.

Now you take Raymond Auger, a bearded young artist down in Greenwich Village. He has real know-how.

He has an electronic monster to paint pictures.

Sometimes there's a difference of opinion on just what these masterpieces portray. But the inventor's "automatic art show" in a little shop is drawing quite a few people—some interested, some amused.

The masterpiece maker is a contraption of wires and electronic gadgets that looks like a hopeless tangle.

It's something like a pianola. Its actions are dictated by a punctured roll of thick paper running through its "brain." An armature ends in a vicious-looking clamp, which opens and shuts its mouth like an alligator. It grabs the brushes, dips them in four paint pots containing black, red, blue and yellow, and revolves on a rotating stand.

All it takes to set the thing in motion is $2—inserted in a slot like you start a jukebox, but placed in Auger's palm.

Auger then turns on the switch. Things get rather incomprehensible as the monster goes into its act, with the brushes whirling on the canvas with a vengeance.

FREE BROTHER IN SHOOTING

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The second of two brothers who had been sought in connection with the fatal shooting of Thomas J. Gilmore last Sunday has surrendered to authorities.

Glenn McCauley, 15, went to the home of attorney Isaiah W. Crippins Thursday night.

Glenn was returned home, Crippins said, because "now they (the authorities) don't want him."

Capt. David Brown of the homicide unit said the attorney had been notified four hours earlier a warrant for Glenn was being withdrawn. Brown said that "at the present moment we don't have enough evidence to warrant an arrest in the case."

Earlier Thursday Manny McCauley, 17, was taken to the homicide division by Crippins. He was transferred to the juvenile division of County Court where he will have a hearing on homicide charges next Tuesday.

Soldier Dies Of Wound From Dud

CAMP A. P. HILL, Va. (AP)—Sp. 5 Roger J. Orazzi, 22, of Old Forge, Pa., who was injured here Monday, died Thursday at Dewitt Army Hospital, Ft. Belvoir, Va.

Orazzi was struck by a flying fragment of a dud shell when the dud was detonated by a demolition team on a range adjacent to that on which Orazzi's unit was training, an army spokesman said.

Orazzi was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Orazzi, Old Forge. His parents were at his bedside when he died.

Orazzi was a member of Headquarters Company, 1st battle group, 109th Infantry, 28th Army National Guard Division of Pennsylvania.

Ozzie And Harriet Nelson Begin 11th Year In Television Next September 27

"The Adventures of Ozzie and Harriet" begins its second decade of telecasting with its fall bow September 27 on ABC-TV.

Including its long run on radio, the weekly half-hour family situation comedy series is actually starting its 19th consecutive year on the air. It thus re-establishes itself as one of the most durable and popular programs in the history of the broadcasting industry.

ries since the outset.

Today, David 25 and Rick 22, in addition to their TV series, are a fraternal couplet of burgeoning show biz talent. Bobby-sox idol Rick is a movie actor and a rock 'n' roll singer with eight "gold records" to his credit. Married-brother Dave, who is also well known to movie audiences, is an accomplished trapeze artist.

SUCCESS OR FAILURE

Ozzie and Harriet don't take bows for their boys' success.

Ozzie and Harriet Nelson, with their progeny David and Rick, are synonymous with the American family image both on and off television.

Theirs is a unique history. The Nelson boys — with their parents much in evidence — are perhaps the only people who have literally grown up before the eyes of millions of weekly viewers.

BOYS JOIN IN '48

The boys joined their parents on the radio show in 1948 when David was 11 and Rick 8 years old. Ozzie has portrayed himself on the show, produced and directed it, and also been its chief writer from the beginning. And Harriet has played herself on the show.

ter from the beginning. And Harriet has played herself on the show.

"Ozzie and I both feel," says Harriet, "that parents should think twice before taking bows for their children. Just as parents shouldn't always get the blame when offspring turn out badly, they shouldn't automatically take credit for their success.

"We believe a child is born with a capacity for success or failure. Perhaps parents' principal responsibility is to help mold character."

"NOTHING ALARMING"

Harriet is amused when she receives letters asking advice on "how to handle teen-agers."

"When our boys were little, I was told, 'wait until they become teenagers' — that's when the trouble starts!" she laughed. "I'm still waiting because so far nothing alarming has happened."

It is obvious that Ozzie and Harriet haven't forgotten their own youth.

"Ozzie and I wonder sometimes if perhaps a lot of folks have awfully short memories. I'm sure some who are so disturbed over rock 'n' roll were knocking themselves out 30 years or so ago with the Charleston. But do you think our generation would ever admit we turned out wrong? Not on your life!"

WERE NOT INQUISITIVE

Sons and daughters often become uncommunicative during their teens. Dave and Rick were no exception.

"Ozzie and I learned, that the less we asked about our sons' private affairs, the more they told us . . . when they were ready," Harriet recalls.

The Nelsons are together much more than most families, and Mrs. Nelson observes: "I'm sure our sons have a greater understanding of and respect for their father because for the past 14 years they've watched him work day after day. They see first-hand the many problems he must solve as producer, director, chief writer and actor of our family show. If at the end of a day, Ozzie is tired, they know why."

"Ozzie and I are careful about respecting the boys' privacy. We're always around if they need our advice, but we never 'pry' into their personal affairs."

Although the Nelsons are a closely knit family in their personal life, just as they are on the air, Ozzie and Harriet have gone along with their sons in their desire to have living and or rehearsal quarters of their own.

For instance, before Dave married June Blair, who is also his TV wife, he had his own house in the Hollywood Hills. Rick divides his time between the family home and a place of his own — a small rehearsal cottage located behind the family home.

"MUSIC STUDIO"

"Harriet and I had the cottage built several years ago when Rick's recordings first started to catch the public fancy, and music began to take up more and more of his time," Ozzie explains.

"It's really no more than a music studio — a place where he can keep his instruments, rehearse new songs and work out musical arrangements."

"It was partly self-defense," Harriet adds. "We had to get some sleep."

Typically, Ozzie and Harriet have allowed their brood to carry a major share of responsibility. As much as they could handle, in fact, Ozzie figured that if the kids weren't permitted to make decisions when they were young, they might not be able to make them

DOGGING THE NEWSMAKERS' FOOTSTEPS

Since ABC News' "Issues and Answers" spotlights matters of current importance, it is vital that producer Peggy Whedon line up politicians and dignitaries for interviews when they are "hot."

To get them on the air she is present at all news conferences, gives advice to Congressional wives on how to get along in Washington, and goes on an endless round of embassy parties.

The effects of caviar and cocktails, however, are mitigated by the advice of her doctor husband and a stringent pre-party routine. Her attendance at Washington soirees is preceded by a roadside rest dinner of hamburgers and a malted milk.

"I know as many car hops as VIP's" admitted Peggy.

News Notes

Elie Abel, NBC News State Department correspondent, had carefully packed his suitcase recently for a trip to Europe to cover Secretary of State Dean Rusk's visit abroad.

Returning home for his suitcase from an important luncheon in Washington, Abel found his family already departed for a vacation in Massachusetts. But he didn't find his suitcase which his wife accidentally took along.

Abel found an old winter suit in a closet and a battered valise to stuff it in. And as he wore his winter suit in late June, Abel's thoughts surely turned to the cool breezes of New England — and his suitcase.

ABC News' "Bell and Howell Close-Up!" series has been renewed for a third television season. For the 1962-63 season, "Bell and Howell Close-Up!" will present 18 documentaries, four one-hour programs and 14 half-hours. The opening program of the season will be a study of education at the elementary and secondary school levels in the Soviet Union.

Five new full-hour programs in the NBC Special Projects "World of —" series will be presented on the NBC Television Network during the 1962-63 season.

"The World of Jacqueline Kennedy," first in the new series, will be broadcast Monday, October 29, 8:30-9:30 p.m.

Due to great listener demand, "Winston Churchill — The Valiant Years" will be given a second network showing beginning in September.

DANNY THOMAS HAS NOONTIME WORK SESSION

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—It's quite a show put on by Danny Thomas, the loaded Lebanese.

Danny calls me cousin but we aren't related, dash it all. Even so, it's fun to watch him operate at noontime in his particular domain, the lunchroom at Desilu Cahuenga Studios.

Thomas moves restlessly about the place, munching at a hamburger now and then. He stops by the table of Joey Bishop: "We got a real problem, baby, cutting eight minutes out of that first show. It's going to seem like cutting your own flesh."

JOKES WITH BISHOP

After exchanging serious business and a few jokes with Bishop, he waves a "howdy, pardner" to Andy Griffith, heading for the set in his sheriff's outfit. Carl Reiner drops by to tell of plans to resume the Dick Van Dyke Show as soon as Dick gets sprung from "Bye Bye Birdie."

Danny also has a long huddle with Sheldon Leonard, who turned from gangster roles to being a large part of the brains behind the Thomas operation.

Besides the Bishop, Griffith and Van Dyke shows, Thomas also is overseeing "The Real McCoys," which originated with his company but later went afield.

HAVE A PROBLEM

They're coming back because they've got a problem," Danny said. Kathy Nolan left the show, so they've got to break in a new wife. They figure I'm an expert at that."

The Thomas operation is remarkable in Hollywood, in that all but one of the shows it has originated are still on the air. The sole casualty was "The Janis Paige Show," which lasted only a season.

"That was the year girls went out of style on television," Danny explained. We also made a mistake in the concept. The original title was 'The Four of Us,' and the burden was spread around. But when the title was changed and the emphasis placed entirely on the star, the idea went wrong."

West To East

A glamorous array of beauty and talent will parade on the nation's television screens Saturday, September 8, from 9:30 p.m. to 12 midnight when the "Miss America Pageant" is broadcast live on the CBS Television Network from Convention Hall, Atlantic City, N. J.

Bert Parks will return for his eighth year as Master of Ceremonies.

"Stump the Stars," based on the popular "Pantomime Quiz" series, will make its debut on the CBS Television Network Monday, September 17 with comedian Pat Harrington Jr., as host from 10:30 to 11 p.m.

The "Voice of Firestone," which had had a 31-year run on radio and television when it left the air in June 1959, returns September 30 on the ABC Television Network from 10 to 10:30 p.m.

"The Real McCoys," a popular comedy series on television for five seasons, will make its debut on the CBS Television Network Sunday, September 30 from 9 to 9:30 p.m.

"The Adventures of Ozzie and Harriet" has been around longer than many of its fans.

when they were adults.

"Actually, Mom and Dad haven't treated us as children many years," alleges Dave. "Maybe that's because Rick and I have been earning our own way for more than 14 years."

Says bread-winner Rick who has picked up a wealth of experience as well as a boodle of cash from his long-run radio and TV work, "actually I seldom think of money. Other things are more important to me. Like doing a good job in front of the camera or on a record. Anyway Dad always said that if you do the very best you can, then make that little extra effort, money in the long run will take care of itself."

Harriet summed by saying, "O working together has worked out wonderfully. If I had the last 26 years as Mrs. Ozzie Nelson to live over again, I wouldn't change a thing."

"Each age the boys reach is the most fascinating. The best is yet to come. Someday they'll have families of their own, and I'll be a grandmother. I can't wait."

ly comedy series co-starring the Nelsons — Ozzie, Harriet, Dave and Rick — begins its 19th consecutive year on the air — 11th on TV — this fall.

A Few Chuckles

Carl Ballantine, magician turned actor on "McHale's Men" on ABC-TV this fall, says hecklers in an audience don't bother him, that a good smash in the jaw always stops them. "Now," muses Carl, "if I could only find some way to handle the men!"

Sing Along's Mitch Miller observes that these days they have music for almost everything: Music to Eat By, Music to Fix Leaky Faucets By and now he intends to put one out under the title of Music to Sew a Patch on the Seat of Your Pants By. It would be what they call background music!

Fess Parker, of "Mr. Smith Goes to Washington" on ABC-TV this fall notes that these days many people get along on sign language — they sign for this, they sign for that!

Robert Mirvish, author of TV sea stories read that a manufacturer is going to market a new summer garment called a Ship 'N' Shore blouse. He wonders how many women will have the coastline for it!

Paul Henning, whose "Beverly Hillsbillies" is a CBS-TV fall series, tells of the new deadly missile that tracks down everything and no matter how fast the target goes or how hard it tries to escape it's sure to be hit. "Actually," says Paul, "the invention is very simple — it has a California driver in it!"

Hope For Fall

Chester has got his limp. Deputy Fife has the shakes. Paladin wears a knight on his holster, passes out a calling card that is beginning to acquire a fine patina — and hollers.

And Cousin Jethro Bodine of "The Beverly Hillsbillies" laughs. According to young Max Baer, who portrays Cousin Jethro on "The Beverly Hillsbillies," CBS-TV's new comedy series which premieres on Wednesday, September 26, he'll be extremely happy if his laughing catches on just half as much as the other aforementioned television trademarks.
